BIO:

Melbourne born Clare Maxfield AICI CIP, is an inspiring and entertaining image consultant and speaker who has dedicated her life to the all importance of image and achieving personal goals. With over 20 years corporate experience Clare’s career has spanned through fairly diverse fields where she has worked as a model and then as a style and image consultant, personal and professional trainer for some of Australia’s most successful companies, including Hilton Hotels, Pitcher Partners Chartered Accountants, Earnst & Young, Jenny Craig, and Sussan. Author of three books, Getting Corporate, Getting Gorgeous and Getting Handsome, - a series of books filled with common sense tips, which have been translated into other languages and sold all other the world. Clare is one of only 5 Australian Image Consultants to have reached the designation of Certified Image Professional. She has also travelled extensively and lived in other countries where she has learned to master the various taboos and social etiquettes spanning the globe.

Testimonials:

Thank-you for an entertaining and informative presentation at our Oaks Day breakfast. Your presentation, content and use of visual aids certainly added to the success of our breakfast.

CPA Australia

Thank-you for your contribution to our conference. I appreciate the time and energy you put into your paper and presentation. I hope that you gained as much as the delegates did from the knowledge that you passed on to them. IES Conferences

The three presentations you delivered for us on ‘Presenting a Professional Image’ were informative and entertaining. As a professional services firm it is critical for us to present and conduct ourselves professionally at all times. Your sessions provided us with an array of do’s and don’ts and a much better understanding of how to ‘Dress for Success’. Thank you for sharing your knowledge and experience with us and for also providing us with your e-book, ‘Corporate Connections’. Every single person took away new ways to improve and boost their professional image. On behalf of Pitcher Partners, Thank you.
